

Greenwood County Veterans Affairs Hall of Heroes

Each year Greenwood County veterans are nominated to be recognized as military heroes. A committee selects and notifies recipients who are being inducted. The honorees provide shadow boxes displaying their photo, medals and awards. These shadow boxes are on loan for public viewing for a year. Once new recipients are selected former honorees are recognized with a permanent plaque placed on the Hall of Heroes Wall. Visitors to the Military Museum are encouraged to view this exhibit during their visit.

“Heroes” are ordinary people called upon to do extraordinary feats. These military heroes may be our friends, family members or neighbors.

Mission Statement:

The Greenwood County Veterans Center Hall of Heroes Military Museum serves to make available for public display United States military memorabilia associated with the experiences of local veterans.

A work-in-progress, the Military Museum accepts military memorabilia from area veterans and their families for display. Artifacts are added and rotated throughout the collection. Special displays occur throughout the year. A large screen video shows streaming images and narratives of past military significance. Upon request, individuals wishing to watch a video may do so at a private station. A small library of related military books, journals and magazines are available. Some items are available to be checked out.

Member of the South Carolina Federation of Museums

- Tax deductible non-profit organization
- Donations of military memorabilia and financial contributions are always appreciated

SPECIAL EVENTS

From time to time special displays featuring particular events, war time periods or specific memorabilia will be on display. A regular weekend display will showcase a rotating collection of antique guns from the Revolutionary War to modern day conflicts.

Individuals, Families and Groups

Knowledgeable veteran volunteers are available to explain items in the museum collection. Veterans are encouraged to add their "pin" to a world map showing where they served while on active duty.

The museum is an ideal place for family visits where historical information can be shared with younger generations in an interactive environment.

School and Civic Groups are encouraged to take a narrated tour of the museum and may call 864-942-8530 to set a date and time.
